Cordyceps MYCELIA CS-4

Our kidneys are responsible for nourishing the body and maintaining the body's physiological balance. They act as the body's natural filter and help remove waste from the blood. When our kidneys are in poor health, it can cause a chain reaction in our overall well-being.

NHT Global's Cordyceps Mycelia CS-4 is a highly specialized formula that improves the health and function of the kidneys. Cordyceps contains adenosine, polysaccharides, essential amino acids, and vitamins and has been praised by the Chinese for centuries for its unique ability to nourish the kidneys.* Help your body perform the way it was intended and protect against harmful free radicals with NHT Global's Cordyceps Mycelia CS-4.

ABOUT NHT GLOBAL'S HERBAL LINE

NHT Global is proud to partner with the Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology (HKIB) to launch our Herbal Line, which features innovative products designed to protect the health of our body's most vital organs.

Founded in 1988, HKIB is a leading biotechnology research and product development company and wholly-owned subsidiary of the prestigious Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK). HKIB specializes in formulating perfectly balanced herbal supplements that marries the best of both East and West. Their expert team of herbalists begins by sourcing some of the most precious ingredients known to Traditional Chinese Medicine and develops them into premium quality finished products that are manufactured according to the highest scientific standards in a GMP certified facility in Hong Kong.

HKIB's holistic approach guarantees that every product in NHT Global's Herbal Line is not only rooted in traditional Chinese medicine techniques, but is also pure, safe, and backed by Western science and technology.
