WELLNESS

When it comes to key nutrients we need for optimal wellness, the B vitamins are not to be overlooked. These important vitamins are crucial for the body's natural energy production and are an essential building block for many vital bodily functions – from our mood and nervous system to brain and cardiovascular function.* When we struggle to receive the proper balance of B vitamins from our diets, supplementation is a simple way to make sure you meet your body's needs.

Unlock your Potential

NHT Global's Ultra B Complex delivers a high concentration of all eight B vitamins in a proprietary time-release formula to provide a strong foundation for our health.* It's also enhanced with additional specialized phytonutrients like spirulina and ginkgo biloba to support your vitality and cognition.* Consuming one to two easy-to-swallow tablets a day is an easy way to fill critical nutrient gaps and keep you healthy – both mentally and physically.*
