Triotein

The body is made up of billions of cells...cells that have the ability to heal themselves when in the optimum health environment. So, as you could probably guess, it is important to keep our cells healthy. Studies show that glutathione, or GSH, is one of the most important naturally-occurring antioxidants that our body has for intracellular protection and the defense against harmful toxins and free radicals. However, our levels of GSH decline naturally in the body as we get older, contributing to the aging process.
